

The Ladybird takes its first strides outdoors

Our first full motion test of the ladybird outside.

We exercise the whole system for the first time, including translation, rotation and combined manoeuvres, including autonomous row alignment and following.